RE: Application for Recertification of AskED Ballot Printing System

Dear Secretary Toulouse-Oliver,

Please accept this letter as our application for the the recertification of the AskED Ballot Printing System.

The AskED Ballot Printing System (The System) was independently tested by SLI Global Solutions (SLI) in December of 2011. SLI Global Solutions is testing laboratory accredited by the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) and has been given accredited voting system testing lab (VSTL) status by the Election Assistance Commission. Based on the results of the independent testing, the AskED System was certified by the Voting System Certification Committee (VSCC) in New Mexico in 2011, 2013, 2017, and 2021. Since 2012 the AskED System has been successfully implemented in over 30 elections across 13 counties and 7 municipalities/local bodies. In all of these elections the AskED Ballot Printing System has demonstrated compliance with New Mexico State Election Code.

In addition to the testing provided by SLI in 2011, test ballots have been regularly submitted to Dominion Voting Systems for testing. After testing, our printers and methods were successfully qualified for use with Dominion ImageCast Tabulators currently in use throughout the State of New Mexico. A copy our latest qualification letter is included with this application.

Enhancements continue to be made to the AskED Software, such as continued support of SERVIS APIs, Same Day Registration, and improvements which do not impact areas of functionality required in the New Mexico State Election Code nor is there any specific test for these features. The specific State requirements were tested by SLI and the AskED system proved compliant. Therefore, the lab report provided by SLI is still relevant for determining if the AskED System meets the applicable requirements of state law. In addition to the 2011 report, we have included certification testing reports from the State of California and approval documents for all States in which the AskED system has been certified.

We are available for questions and system demonstration at the convenience of your team and the Voting System Certification Committee.

Sincerely,
